The renewal of the baseless rumor which has several times previously been put in circulation, that the President intends to circulation, that the President intends to circulation, that the President intends to call a mid-summer session of Congress, meets with flat contradiction in every well-informed quarter here. It is said that the President, when he gave out his authoritative statement on the 5th of June last that he intended to call an extra session of Congress "not earlier than the 1st nor later than the dilly considered every "contingency" which up to that date had developed, and that nothing has occurred since to cause him to deviate from his deliberately and nounced intention. On the contrary, the course of events has confirmed him in the course of events has confirmed him in the position he then took. He had privately communicated his decision to Speaker Crisp and other prominent public men before he made it public. As stated in his authorized interview, he had made "no mystery or secrecy in regard to his intentions in this matter." He further promised that he would inform the people pro men before he made he stated in his authorized interview, he had made "no mystery or secreey in regard to his intentions in this matter." He further promised that he would inform the people authoritatively when the time was at hand for their representatives to be called together to deal with the financial conditions, and it can be said with positiveness that Mr. Cleveland intends to carry out this pledge.

Further to clinch matters, it can be stated on authority that the President has completed his arrangements to be absent from the city from some time in July until the latter part of Angust.

FAIR OPEN SUNDAYS.

Such Is the Decision of the Court of Appeals.

The Advocates of Sunday-Closing Disap pointed, but Not Discouraged-The Wanamaker Suit.

PORKOPOLITAN APPROVAL

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) CHICAGO, June 17-The Court of Appeals has unanimously decided in tavor of open Sundays at the World's Fair. The court holds that the local directory is in full control and that the government has no

The court took the ground that the appropriation of $2,500,000 in souvenir ins by the United States Government couns by the United States Government could not possibly be construed as a charity, or as a charitable bequest. It was simply an appropriation for the assistance and benefit of the local corporation, for the purpose of completing a work that affected the honor of the United States. As to the right of the United States to possession and control of the grounds, the court held that the local corporation was in lawful and actual possession and that this fact had been recognized by acts of the national legislature. The court repudiated the idea that the United States had any exclusive rights or authority in the premises, and concluded with the declaration that no tenable ground had been shown for accepting the case under hearing from the ordinary rules governing a court of chancery.

"Therefore," concluded the Chief Justice, "the order of the Chreut Court is reversed, and the case is remanded for any further proceedings not inconsistent with this ruling."

there went up a great cheer from the crowd in attendance, which caused the Chief Justice to smile meaningly at his associates.

The advocates of Sunday closing were considerably east down over the result, but admitted that inasmuch as the ruling was a unanimous one there was no alternative but to meekly bow to the supreme authority of the United States judiciary.

Rev. L. McLean, secretary of the American Sabbath Union, while somewhat disappointed by the decision of the court, was not at all discouraged as to the ultimate success of the attempts to close the fair on Sunlays. "This decision clears the way for the prosecution of the suit begun in the United States Court here by John Wanamaker and other stockholders in the exposition to prevent Sunday opening. The point has been made in this case just concluded that the World's-Fair Directors were willing to refund to the government the money had under the sourcement of the money had under the sourcement at in return for the privilege of keeping open on Sunday. Mr. Wanamaker and the World's-Fair stockholders associated with him assert in their bill that such return of this money would cause them loss and impair their property interests as part owners of the exposition. This suit will now be pushed vigorously."

ANOTHER MOTION FOR INJUNCTION.

The World's-Fair officials hardly had time to congratulate themselves on the victory in the United States Court of Appeals before notice of a motion for another injunction was served upon them. The motion will be made in the United States Circuit Court. This action was brought by Wanamaker & Brown and P. W. Pratt, a citizen of Massachusetts, to restrain the World's-Fair officials from opening the exposition on Sundays.

But boys are alike the world over, so they considered it capital sport to secure a large live cat, slip into Bill's house, rip open his bed, and is ew the cat therein. When Bill entered his room that night the cat was raising "hallelujah!" as he afterwards expressed it, and the mattress was fairly jumping up and down on the old squeaky bedstead. Bill's eyes protruded from their sockets, and forgatting the door he plunged headlong through the windows, carving sash, glass, and all as he sped around the house. "Oh. Lordy. Is haunted! Be cat, de cat!" he shouted. A ringing laugh from a lot of boys tollowing let the cat out of the bag, as it were; but Bill refused to sleep in that house again, and now "For Rent" is tacked upon the door.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

A New York Town in Trouble Because of Labor Differences.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) Tonawanda, N. Y., June 17.—This village is now under martial law. At 2 o'clock this afternoon President George W. Stanley issued a proclamation calling upon everybody to abstain from violence and declaring the village under martial law. The issuance of the proclamation created considerable excitement.

The lumbermen held a secret meeting this afternoon. They decided to continue the fight.

this afternoon. They decided to continue the fight.

A new departure was made in the local labor frombles here Thursday evening, when the Poles laft the barges upon which they were working and entered into an agreement with the locked-out men not to do any more work here. The main cause of the strike seemed to be the price paid to the Poles for unloading lumber, the laborers claiming that they were not paid as much as they could get in Buffalo. The lumberman say that plenty of Poles can be had in Buffalo to take the strikers' places, and work will only be slightly interrupted. The union men, however, hold that this strike helps their case greatly, as more green men will have to be broken in and eastern lumber-dealers must have their lumber forwarded at once. Freen men will have to be broken in and easiern lumber-dealers must have their lumber forwarded.

Not stroke of work is being done on the lumber dects here. Beputies are guarding the bridge to Little lained and will let no striker over. The strikers are uneasy and show signs of fight. A meeting was held yesterday attended by 300 Foles, but the proceedings were secret. Squads of Foles and strikers patrolled the streets yesterday and an outbreak seemed certain.

The expected outbreak did not occur, however, and last night the excitement had largely suiteded.

Nr. J. T. Parkinson, of the T. C. Williams Company, has returned from Danville and Winston, N. C. He reports Winston tobacco-men very blue, and only a very few of them filling contracts. Warehousemen issued circulars requesting planters to ship no more tobacco, as sales were not satisfactory with such meagre demand. Fillers were abundant and cheapenough for any one who would buy them. The crop is nearly all sold. As to the quantity in farmers' hands reports differ, but desiere hold large stocks without bids or prospects of sale everywhere.

The Spanish contracts are still unawarded and will likely be bought, as for several years past, by some secret treaty with private agencies with which outsiders are unacquainted. This is the case when no bids are accepted and when the syndicate or Spanish tobacco company, who leases its rights from the Spanish powernment, sees best to buy on its own responsibility. To Spain is probably due this meagre method and high lug prices, for two years past behind in her quota, and this year wants 10,000 hogsheads of common tobacco and would award the annual contract for six years on an acceptable bid.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO. Jule 17.—The corn market broke down teeday, and frop, however, was not so sharp as was the advance of Friday. Still there was a reduction of about a cent a bushel. The French-duty question was more clearly understeed. Cables were numerous saying the action was only on hay and straw, with no prospect of other removal. It is also established by past records that France only takes $7,000,000 to $25,000,000 outside corn on an average, and that the question of a free admission of coarse grains was not so very important to American grain merchants after all. The sentiment at the start was easier, and first trades were anywhere from 1s to big. under the final figures of yesterday, and after ruling steady for awhite concluded to grow weaker, selling off $10. Later the price railied a trifle and ruled fairly steady, but at the close had lost $1450c. There was only a light trade in wheat lo-day and an easier feeling existed. The opening was easier and first sales were about the same as yesterday's closing to $40. Lower for July and $40. Lower for september than yesterday's nearest pasted, the close being made at from $4 to $40 under yesterday's nearest pasted, and closing about $40 under yesterday's nearest provision market was strengthened by the receipt of $2,000 hogs less than was estimated yesterday, the firmness of prices adding scarcely anything to the volume of the day's business. Closing prices show advances of from 10 to 15c. in pork, 5c. in September lard, and 75c. in ribs.

Funeral Notice.

Ernest Hoen.

Mr. Ernest Hoen, the last of the original members of the firm of A. Hoen & Co., lithographers and printers, died last night at his home, in Waverly. He had lived in Baltimore since his boyhood. Several years ago Mr. Hoen was thrown from his buggy and suffered a concussion of the brain, and thence until his fatal sickness he was never entirely well. January 11th he was seized with severe pains caused by kidney trouble, and on March 11th was operated upon at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. He recovered from the operation, but was soon prostrated by a recurrence of the kidney trouble. Drs. Hoen, Halstead, and Sulzer were in consultation over his case, but he grew worse until his death.

Mr. Hoen was born in Hoehn, Nassau, Germany, in July, 1828. His father was Martin Hoen, a farmer and burgomaster, who served with distinction against Napoleon at Waterloo. The family removed to this country in 1835. Mr. Hoen was educated at Zion Church School, the family having come directly from Europe to Baltimore. The first business venture of Mr. Hoen was with E. Weber & Co., the firm in which his brother August was a partner, in the lithographing business. Upon the death of Mr. Weber the firm-name was changed to A. Hoen & Co.

Since September 20, 1886, Mr. Hoen has been at the head of the firm's business in connection with the late Henry Hoen. Mr. Ernest Hoen was also connected with the reorganization of the German-American Firs-Insurance Company, of which he was president for a number of years. He was also president for some of the Domicile societies, as the building associations were first called. He was a director in the Hopkins-Place Savings Bank and the Savings Bank of Baltimore, and was also one of the Board of Governors of the Maryland Historical Society.

As an evidence of Mr. Hoen's love for flowers his residence in Waverly was surrounded with a rare and beautiful collection of orchids, amarylis, and glornans.

In 1864 Mr. Hoen was married to Miss Frances E. Nixdorff, and his widow survives him, together wit Ernest Hoen.
